Good Friday is a day when Christians around the world solemnly commemorate the suffering and death of Jesus. This opportunity to pray together during the coronavirus pandemic offers a special moment of unity for the faithful during a time when communities throughout the United States and worldwide are physically unable to congregate for Holy Week and Easter.

Additionally, with special permission received from the Apostolic Penitentiary of the Holy See, a plenary indulgence is available for those who join Archbishop Gomez in praying the Litany of the Sacred Heart on Good Friday. The Congregation for Divine Worship and the Discipline of the Sacraments has issued new Mass texts and suggested readings. In its decree, the Congregation said it was responding to requests by clergy “to be able to celebrate a specific Mass to implore God to bring an end to this pandemic.” Archbishop Cordileone has distributed this information to all the priests of the Archdiocese. The Spanish and English Mass texts, and the recommended Scripture readings in Spanish and English, can be read on (and downloaded from) the Office of Worship Liturgy webpage, above.

NEW – Grocery Ministry Is Launched, Volunteers Are Needed

The Archdiocese of San Francisco’s Office of Human Life & Dignity (HLD) has launched a “Love Your Neighbor” initiative to help those who are homebound and in need of groceries during the COVID-19 shelter-in-place. On the webpage Love Your Neighbor (above), those who need help can submit requests (online or by phone); those who want to give help can volunteer, online or by phone. The project launched on April 2, and Archbishop Cordileone sent a personal message to pastors urging them to participate in making the project a success.

Funding is available to Catholic groups able to dedicate a minimum of 15 hours a week to this project during the crisis. HLD is recruiting Catholics to establish short-term grocery-buying and delivery ministries during the pandemic. These ministries will provide groceries, without charge, for those in financial need. In addition, they will do shopping and delivery for those who have funds to buy groceries but are homebound because of COVID-19 health concerns.

For complete information and instructions on how to participate, visit the English webpage or Spanish webpage, above.

Monica Williams, Director of Catholic Cemeteries for the Archdiocese, has sent these updates:

The First Saturday Masses at Holy Cross Cemetery for April 4 and May 2 have been canceled. We hope to resume our Masses in June but will post information as it is available. The staff members of the Catholic Cemeteries continue to pray for all our beloved dead.

During the shelter-in-place order, the Catholic Cemeteries, fulfilling our ministry of the Corporal Work of Mercy to bury the dead, remain open for committal services. The following limitations are in place in compliance with the local and state shelter-in-place orders:

- Committal services are limited to a maximum of 10 people, who are to practice social distancing.
- Our offices are closed to the public, but our staff is available by phone, fax, and email. Families needing to select new burial sites for loved ones may make an appointment to meet a staff member.
- For those families wishing to delay services, we will be happy to help schedule those at an appropriate time, and to schedule larger memorial gatherings in the future for those who may have had to limit their services.

The staff members continue to pray for all the beloved dead in our care.

Many parishes are also livestreaming daily and weekend Masses, as well as talks, retreats, reflections, and more, in which the faithful are invited to participate in their homes. A growing list of those is found on the webpage sfarch.org/livestreams. Please check to see if yours is listed and accurate; contact J. A. Gray, grayj@sfarch.org, with any updates.

If you are not streaming, please be sure to make your parishioners aware of these opportunities (share the above link in website, emails, mailings, etc.). Some recommendations for effective use of your time online with parishioners are at sfarch.org/streamtips.
