

AFFORDABLE & FAIR CHANCE HOUSING REENTRY PANEL

Join us for an Affordable & Fair Chance Housing discussion and discover the numerous barriers that formerly incarcerated people endure while trying to find and secure affordable housing upon their release from custody. In this discussion we'll explore the obstacles, opportunities and solutions being offered to help break the cycles of poverty, incarceration, and homelessness. Whether you work for a housing focused government agency, community base organization, or simply a community member concerned with public safety and the homeless crisis, this panel was designed for you to learn and engage with today's innovative leaders on this critical subject.
